Should teenagers use Internet Slang?

At present, Internet Slang, such as "Geili, Kengdie", has become popular among the teenagers. There are different opinions about Internet Slang. Some students think Internet Slang is lively and fashionable. It's full of humor and wisdom. And it makes chatting on the Internet more convenient.

However, some other students think Internet Slang isn't polite enough. And sometimes it's hard to understand. People may misunderstand the Internet Slang when it is used too much.

Every coin has two sides. In my opinion, living in the Information Age, we can use Internet Slang to express our thoughts. And it will be OK as long as we use the words correctly in proper situations.

E-Books, Good or Bad?

It's reported that school students in Korea started to use e-books from 2011.

There'll be more and more kinds of e-books. The e-books will come into everyone's house in the near future. Hearing of the news, some people are for the e-books. They think e-books are so convenient and they could look up the information just in a few seconds. Besides, they think e-books are good for the environment, because there is no paper in them. In this way, people could save lots of trees, which will make the world more beautiful.

However, every coin has two sides. Some people have the opposite opinion. They think e-books aren't so good for us students because they will make them spend much more time on computer than they do now, which is bad for the eyes. What's more, they can't enjoy the pleasure of reading.

As for me, I think the e-books are good, not only because they are good for the environment, but they can offer vivid pictures or flash to help us understand better. Furthermore, e-books are much lighter, we don't need to carry the heavy books but just take an e-book in our pockets.

My summer vacation will start soon. I am so looking forward to it because I might be able to drive myself! There are some highlighted choices for me to choose, such as volunteering, having a part-time job and go bike riding, etc.

How to spend a meaningful vacation? Everyone has his or her own opinion. From my point of view, first of all, I'd like to go to the beautiful beaches to get total relax and clear my mind. Secondly, I will find something I am interested in and also helpful to others or the whole society. Volunteering, for instance, would be a better choice, which not only does good to others, but also enriches my life. Lastly, I've made up my mind to read more good books. As the saying goes, "Books makes a full man." Books are also our friends. They introduce us different kinds of knowledge. They tell the good from the bad. Therefore, to make ourselves be engaged in reading would always be a better choice for us young students.

All in all, life is too short to waste a single day. What we should do is to make good use of our holiday time and make every day count. Hopefully, all of us can have a fantastic and memorable holiday!

Great changes have taken place in our studies since our school began to carry on exploring learning strategies. We used to listen to the teacher carefully in the whole class. And we also have to take lots of grammar notes. What's worse, we had so much homework that we have no time to relax. Little by little, we lost interest in learning English.

But now, things are quite different. Our teachers ask questions and we discuss in groups. We help each other and share together. I learn a lot this way. I learn how to communicate and cooperate with others. More and more students are interested in learning. Besides after class, not only can we go to the school library to read our favorite books, we also have enough time to do sports. I firmly believe as long as we work hard, each of us will make great progress soon.

Boys and girls,

I am glad to have the chance to share my experience with you in Britain for about 2 months as an exchange student.

While in Britain, I stayed with a British family and got to learn about the life of common people there. I took a lot of courses, including English writing, English literature, and the history of Britain, etc. During my stay, I went to some clubs with friends and listened to or watch football matched. I experienced part of the British culture. Besides, I visited many libraries and museums and also I traveled to several British cities. This is really an enjoyable and unforgettable experience, which helped me in many ways. First, I learned to be independent and make some decisions by myself. Second, I got to know more about the differences between Britain and China. Last but not least, I made a lot of friends there and had my English improved, which has enriched my life greatly.

Because of the impact of online shopping and online reading, many bookstores have to be closed under pressure. Although you can easily choose a book online than by going to buy it in a bookstore, I still truly believe bookstores are necessary in our daily life.

In our culture, bookstores are seen as social and intellectual places where people gather and know one another and talk. When you go into a bookstore, you can get the experience of choosing any book you like. That really means a lot to a good reader.

As far as I am concerned, there're some effective ways for bookstores to change the present situation. For example, as for a bookstore seller, you can let your bookstore be the site of exciting events, including book singings with famous authors or a variety of salons. Moreover, you can make your bookstore attractive to customers through advertising and free publicity. In addition, using customer feedback to develop your business is an essential way as well.

To sum up, I strongly believe bookstores can't be banned, for they do play an important role in shaping the image of cities, forming a cultural atmosphere, and being a guider for readers.

1. In our daily life, we are often moved by stories full of love. When someone is in trouble, it's necessary for us to help them to show our love to them. I still remember the first time when I went to the old people's home to help an old man clean up his living room. In return, he told me his past life. I learnt a lot from that. And I knew I gave my help to him, but received his kindness and rich life experiences. Finally it made us all happy. Thus, I strongly feel that giving is receiving.

2. In our daily life, we will meet with lots of trouble. Some students are always ready to help those who are in trouble. Li Nan is a very good student. In order to make our school more beautiful, she often picks up rubbish and cleans the classrooms. She has good grades so she often helps students who are poor in study. Besides, when we are down, she often talks with us and tries to make us happy. I hope everyone can learn from her and do something for others. Actually helping others is helping ourselves.

Our new president Xi Jinping came up with the dream of the Chinese nation's rejuvenation on December 29, 2012. As a middle school student, I always ask myself what I can do for our great Chinese dream. As we all know, the wiser the youths are, the wiser the nation will be; the wealthier the youths are, the wealthier the nation will be; the stronger the youths are, the stronger the nation will be. Here the word wealthy means: enriching our knowledge reserve. As a new generation, everyone here shoulders the great historical mission of making China powerful and strong.

In order to realize our great Chinese dream, I am going to learn scientific and cultural knowledge actively and make our physical health better to develop ourselves. Besides that, we'd better start from the small things in life such as being kind and friendly to classmates and respect our teachers and parents. What's more, it's necessary for us to have a big dream and try to work hard to make the dream come true. Playing a part in social activities is also important for us.

I believe that as long as all of us unite together and perform our own functions that study hard in school and work hard from now on. We must be able to achieve our great dream.

Dear David,

I'm glad to receive your letter. I have learned from your letter that you are concerned about the smog which frequently appears in some areas of China. Thank you for your concern. I'm also very worried about such terrible weather because it has brought much inconvenience or rather harm to people's health such as traffic jam, road accidents, bad coughs, throat hurts and ever lung cancers and so on.

As everybody knows, a good environment comes from good protection. So we should do what we can to make a difference. Try to drive less and choose air-friendly products. Only when everyone has the environmental awareness can we have cleaner air.

Hoping to hear from you soon and share your good ideas.

Yours,

Li Hua
