Possible version 1:

My Friend

I have a friend. He is Tom. He is tall with glasses. He has short straight hair. He is outgoing and popular in our class.

He does well in playing basketball. I like basketball, too. We are both in our school basketball club. But I'm not better at basketball than he. He always teaches me how to play basketball well. Little by little, I'm better at basketball than before. So we become friends. We spend more time together.

I think Tom is my good friend. He is ready to help me and bring out the best in me. I think we'll be good friend in many years to come.

Possible version 2;

My Friend

Ann is my good friend. She is tall and thin with long straight hair. She loves to tell jokes. She makes me happy when we get together after school.

We are in different classes but in the same school. One day I overslept so I had to rush to the bus station. While I was waiting for the bus, a car stopped in front of me. A girl told me she was my schoolmate and her father could give me a ride. Thanks to Ann and her father, I wasn't late. Since then we became good friends and we often shared everything. I like to have a good friend who has the same interest as me, like Ann.

I think in ten years, we'll be good friends, too. Ann is my good friend forever.

(文章按照要求写全,时态正确。至于如何成为朋友,可以进行论述,也可以叙事。如果朋友是某个小宠物也可以。)

With the development of our society, the mobile phone becomes more and more necessary in our daily life. We can see many people do things with their mobile phones.

On the one hand, the mobile phone helps us in many ways. Some people enjoy themselves by listening to music, watching movies or playing games. Some people shop online to save their time. Others communicate with people who are far away. On the other hand, it has some bad points. It's impolite of people to play with their phones when they get together. And some messages cheat people.

As a student, we are supposed to use the mobile phone in a correct way. We can call parents after school instead of playing with it in class. I hope that the mobile phone can be our real friend.

The Importance Of Teamwork

Years of school life have taught me many things. One of them is teamwork. I feel teamwork is the most important.

However, I didn't realize its importance until I was chosen to be the class monitor. At first, I did all the things by myself while other students cared little about our class activities. As a result, I was busy and tired. Then I turned to my teacher, who advised me to cooperate with others. From that point on, I began to recognize the strength of my classmates and had everyone do their part in class.

As the saying goes, two heads are better than one. Working in teams instead of on my own has freed me of my troubles and made my work much easier.

参考范文

Possible versions:

In daily lives, most schools and families make some rules to help teenagers grow up.

For example, some parents don't allow their children to go out at night. I agree with it because teenagers aren't serious enough about their safety. Most schools make students wear uniforms. I think it's a good rule. On the one hand, students should dress up commonly instead of being mature. On the other hand, it won't take us too much time to think about what to wear.

All in all, some of the rules are good for us. Let's grow up in a healthy and happy environment.

参考范文

Possible versions:

Dear Amy,

You must be excited about coming to China soon. Let me give you some suggestions and advice about Chinese customs.

When it comes to table manners, what comes first is that you shouldn't start eating first if there are older people at the table. And also, it's impolite to stick chopsticks into the rice or point at others with your chopsticks. As it is in many countries, you are not supposed to talk with your mouth full.

As for house rules, it is important for you to knock before entering. Besides, you'd better keep quiet while someone is sleeping. If you want to drop by one of your friends, it's better to bring a small gift.

Being on time is quite necessary when you go out with Chinese friends. Don't keep others waiting and never talk impolitely when they are a bit late. Remember to make some plans before you ask your friends out so that they won't be bored.

Have a safe trip! I look forward to meeting you soon!

Best wishes,

Yours,

Li Ming.

参考范文

Dear Chris,

I'm Li Jin, monitor of Class One, Grade Eleven. Welcome to our class in China. I'm glad you can join our class, which is a wonderful group. Every student not only enjoys studying, but is ready to help each other. So if you join us, I'm sure you can get along well with them and quickly make friends with them, too.

The climate here is changeable. Now, it is very cool in autumn and cold in winter, so don't forget to bring different kinds of clothes with you. In your spare time, you can visit some famous places of interest in our city, as well as tasting all kinds of delicious traditional Chinese local foods. We Chinese use chopsticks to have Chinese food instead of forks and knives. And I can be your tour guide if you like.

As an American, there is no doubt that you are familiar with your country. So if it is convenient to you, please bring a map of America and some photos of your families, friends, and some famous buildings with you, and give us some speeches to introduce your school life and different culture of America. And we'll exchange our different lives and cultures together then.

Looking forward to your coming!

Yours
Li Jin

Possible version:

Last Saturday evening, all my family had dinner in a restaurant. We were enjoying ourselves when something disturbing happened. A group of young people were sitting at the table nearby. While they were eating their food, they talked loudly and smoked cigarettes, making the restaurant full of noise and smoke. I tried to stop them doing so, but they refused to listen to me. Instead, they said it was none of my business and laughed at me.

In fact, what they did upset me deeply, but I was proud of what I did. In my opinion, one should keep quiet and not affect others when in public. Therefore it's completely bad behavior to do that in the restaurant. What's more, we should always watch our manners and pay attention to public morality, as young people are the future of China.

First of all, I feel like showing millions of thanks to you. On the one hand, I get much knowledge from you. Because of it, I open up my mind and get acknowledged to the world outside. On the other hand, I get to know how to be independent and a right person. I will contribute what I've learned from you to the society. Besides, here is a piece of advice to make you better. You'd better build a gym. Not only can the students improve their bodies, but also they can develop some new hobbies which can serve our country. At last, wish you a better future.

Dear Peter,

I'm glad to receive your email. Thank for your frankness. And I'm sorry for what we have done.

As students, we should have good manners. We will make a plan to stop the impolite behaviors. First of all, we will keep quiet in the public places. Students are not allowed to shout in the classrooms and hallways. Also, we will not drop litter everywhere and we will learn to protect the environment. What's more, we will not write or draw on the desk or walls and other places.

I'm glad to invite you to visit our school again, and I'm sure you will see the changes here.

Best wishes!

Yours,
Li Hua

Dear Mike,

I'm very glad to hear from you.

It's great to hear that you are enjoying your stay in China. Here's my advice on your problem.

Chinese people give lots of food to their guests to show their hospitality. If you are getting full, show your thanks by telling your hosts: "The food is delicious! But I'm getting very full. You've given me so much food already—I can't eat another bite!" Thank your hosts while politely refusing to eat any more. People will understand, and they will be happy to see that you have enjoyed their hospitality.

I think if you follow this advice, your stay in China will be perfect!

Yours,
Li Bin

参考范文:

Life is full of worries or troubles. Nevertheless, as long as we try to face them bravely and wisely, they may make us grow up.

Last Friday, my mother made me dumplings for breakfast, however, so salty were the dumplings that I became annoyed. I shouted at my mother and put down the chopsticks angrily. After school, my father picked me up and told me that my mother got up really early to make me dumplings. I said nothing but I felt regretful to shout at my mother. As soon as I got home, I hugged her then said sorry to her.

No one likes worries or troubles. But it is worries or troubles that bring family members and friends closer together. So don't be afraid of them anymore.

Sports are to health what reading is to mind. Exercising has played an important role in my life.

I am fond of running every morning because it can make me strong as well as happy. I used to be fat, and I never exercised. So I felt tired after climbing stairs, which made me upset. Then I decided to run every day. A few days later, I lost weight and got strong. What's more, I felt strong enough to climb even a mountain. Now I am told that I look healthier and I seem to be more active in class.

I really hope more people can join me. The more often we exercise, the healthier we'll be; the healthier we're, the more wonderful our lives will become; the more wonderful our lives become, the happier we will get.
