Possible version 1:

My Friend

I have a friend. He is Tom. He is tall with glasses. He has short straight hair. He is outgoing and popular in our class.

He does well in playing basketball. I like basketball, too. We are both in our school basketball club. But I'm not better at basketball than he. He always teaches me how to play basketball well. Little by little, I'm better at basketball than before. So we become friends. We spend more time together.

I think Tom is my good friend. He is ready to help me and bring out the best in me. I think we'll be good friend in many years to come.

Possible version 2;

My Friend

Ann is my good friend. She is tall and thin with long straight hair. She loves to tell jokes. She makes me happy when we get together after school.

We are in different classes but in the same school. One day I overslept so I had to rush to the bus station. While I was waiting for the bus, a car stopped in front of me. A girl told me she was my schoolmate and her father could give me a ride. Thanks to Ann and her father, I wasn't late. Since then we became good friends and we often shared everything. I like to have a good friend who has the same interest as me, like Ann.

I think in ten years, we'll be good friends, too. Ann is my good friend forever.
(文章按照要求写全,时态正确。至于如何成为朋友,可以进行论述,也可以叙事。如果朋友是某个小宠物也可以。)

The Importance of Teamwork

Years of school life have taught me many things. One of them is teamwork. I feel teamwork is the most important.

However, I didn't realize its importance until I was chosen to be the class monitor. At first, I did all the things by myself while other students cared little about our class activities. As a result, I was busy and tired. Then I turned to my teacher, who advised me to cooperate with others. From that point on, I began to recognize the strength of my classmates and had everyone do their part in class.

As the saying goes, two heads are better than one. Working in teams instead of on my own has freed me of my troubles and made my work much easier.

参考范文

Possible versions:

1. In daily lives, most schools and families make some rules to help teenagers grow up. For example, some parents don't allow their children to go out at night. I agree with it because teenagers aren't serious enough about their safety. Most schools make students wear uniforms. I think it's a good rule. On the one hand, students should dress up commonly instead of being mature. On the other hand, it won't take us too much time to think about what to wear.

All in all, some of the rules are good for us. Let's grow up in a healthy and happy environment.

参考范文

Possible versions:

Dear Amy,

You must be excited about coming to China soon. Let me give you some suggestions and advice about Chinese customs.

When it comes to table manners, what comes first is that you shouldn't start eating first if there are older people at the table. And also, it's impolite to stick chopsticks into the rice or point at others with your chopsticks. As it is in many countries, you are not supposed to talk with your mouth full.

As for house rules, it is important for you to knock before entering. Besides, you'd better keep quiet while someone is sleeping. If you want to drop by one of your friends, it's better to bring a small gift.

Being on time is quite necessary when you go out with Chinese friends. Don't keep others waiting and never talk impolitely when they are a bit late. Remember to make some plans before you ask your friends out so that they won't be bored.

Have a safe trip! I look forward to meeting you soon!

Best wishes,
Li Ming.

Possible version:

Last Saturday evening, all my family had dinner in a restaurant. We were enjoying ourselves when something disturbing happened. A group of young people were sitting at the table nearby. While they were eating their food, they talked loudly and smoked cigarettes, making the restaurant full of noise and smoke. I tried to stop them doing so, but they refused to listen to me. Instead, they said it was none of my business and laughed at me.

In fact, what they did upset me deeply, but I was proud of what I did. In my opinion, one should keep quite and not affect others when in public. Therefore it's completely bad behavior to do that in the restaurant. What's more, we should always watch our manners and pay attention to public morality, as young people are the future of China.

It's said that the middle school students today have their own strong points and weak points. They are talented but seldom think of others.

I think I am positive because I always bring out the best part of my life, spreading love and joy everywhere I go. But no one is perfect. I'm also a little bit moody for not treating others nicely from time to time.

There is no doubt that we are supposed to show others the best part of ourselves so here is some advice on how to do it well. On the one hand, we require improving ourselves all the time to get ready for everything. On the other hand, we will try my best to solve the problems by ourselves. If we do so, not only do we feel satisfied, but also we can be independent in the future.

In general, whether or not we can make it to the top depends on how hard we work for it.

My parents always try their best to take care of me. When I am ill, they are worried about me. They get up early every morning to cook breakfast for me every day. I have nothing to repay them. I'm going to study hard and try to get good grades. When they are talking to me, I will smile at them and listen to them carefully. Besides that, I will try to help them with housework. They work hard every day and feel tired after work. I will try my best to do some dishes, clean the floor, take out the rubbish and so on. When I have something good and delicious, I will share it with them.

In a word, I don't think it's enough to do the above things. I think I can do better to make my parents happy and realize that I have grown up.

B) 范例一 How to build an economized society

Our government is aiming to build an "economized society". I think it is every citizen's duty to work hard to achieve this goal.

Firstly, we know that many restaurants have joined the "clear your plate" campaign against wasting food. We students should do the same in our daily life especially when having dinner with our friends and relatives. It is a good virtue for us to do so. Secondly, make sure that the lights and all the other electric facilities are turned off when we finish our work and leave the room. Also it is important to form the habit of turning off the tap after it is used. Saving energy is also saving ourselves.

In a word, if we pay much attention to our everyday behavior and take actions to reduce waste, we can make contributions to an economized society. Let's work together from now on!

范例二 How to build an economized society

Recently, "clear your plate" campaign is more and more popular in society, which advocates saving against wasting. The campaign draws our attention to wasting on campus. Some students are noticed to throw away a lot of food in the canteen. As is often the case, some lights are still on with nobody in classrooms. What's more, many a student spends much money buying unnecessary items.

As far as I am concerned, it's high time that we fought against wasting. Here're my suggestions. Firstly, I think our school should carry out various activities to arouse students' awareness of saving. Secondly, relevant rules and regulations are supposed to be made to punish those who waste things. Most importantly, we should form the habit of saving from now. It is everybody's duty to save resources.
